ago I noticed a slight pain in the small of my back, just over the kidneys. I could assign no cause for its appearance, but as time passed it grew more severe, and finally ended in attacks, until about twelve months ago other symptoms of acute kidney trouble were quite evident. I tried remedy after remedy, all of them well advertised and standard preparations for kidney and standard preparations for kidney trouble, but the relief I longed for never came. It struck me one day while reading about Doan's Kidney Pills that if they performed half what they promised they might at least help, and I went to the F. J. Hill Dring Co.'s store for a box. Life's Cares at 78. Special Correspondence.

Parowan, Iron Co., Jan. 9.—Mrs. Mary Craig Matheson, wife of David Matheson, passed peacefully to her final rest last night, after much suffering. In the death of Mrs. Matheson our com-munity feels the loss of one of its no-blest women. She was born in Edin-burg, Scotland, July 30, 1826. She belonged to one of those old Scotch fam-lies whose rigid discipline had a tend ercy to produce a high sense of honor and justice. This trait of character was blended with almost boundless sympathy not only for her family and inlimate friends, but also for mankind n general. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day gaints in 1844 by Elder J. D. Ross. Soon after her baptism she removed to Dun-dee, Scotland, where she became the wife of David Matheson, who presided over the large Dundee branch of the Church for so many years. Mrs. Matheson will be remembered by scores, if not by hundreds of the early missionaries to Scotland for her activity in Church work, for her poems and other Church work, for her poems and other writings over the signature of Mary Chalg in the Millennial Star, and also for her unstinted hospitality. Scarcely a week passed from the time of her marriage until her coming to Utah with her husband and family in 1878, but that from one to four Elders were it her home sharing in commencent the fame. home, sharing in common with the family the comforts which it afforded. She was the mother of four children, one of whom died in infancy. Her oldest daughter is the wife of the mayor of this place; her other two children live in Salt Lake City, the son being the as-sistant to the state superintendent of public instruction. The memory of Mrs. Matheson will be cherished and revered by her large circle of acquaint-ances, but most of all by those who have fortunately come in closest touch with her admirable life.

the love and respect with which Sister Moyes was held by the people for whom she has labored so faithfully. Elizabeth Murray Moyes was born at Elizabethon, Michigan, Dec. 24, 1814, and came to Utah in her youth and was one of the early settlers of Plain City, coming here with her parents in Pioner days. At the call of the Church authorities the family joined the expedition down the Muddy in the Dixle country, where they suffered a great many hardships incident to settlement many hardships incident to settle in a new country. For months they were compelled to subsist almost entirely on squash and although they raised a great amount of them, this article of food became scarce on account of the redmen stealing so many from them. The family returned to Plain City and here Sister Moyes has spent the remainder of her days. She was a mother in every sense of the word, raising not only eight children of her own, six of whom survive her, but also the four orphaned daughters of her son. For over 20 years she has been the leading nurse and family doctor of Plain City, and her faithful labors won her the love and respect of all who knew her. For some time past she has suffered with pneumonia with which she fought bravely, but finally succumbed to the dread disease.
